A funny experience at home

It was Wednesday. My parents were visiting an aunt and I was all alone. Although it was chilly outside, I decided to leave my porch door open. My cat, named Sissi, was playing outside. I took a book and began to read. Suddenly, I heard a faint squeak. My thoughts were captivated by the exciting book, and so I imagined it was just the basement door. This noise stopped and then started again. So I looked up from my book. Oh, the fright!

What was there in front of me? My dear cat was playing in the living room with a big fat mouse. My book landed on the floor and I jumped on the desk.

Sissi had no reaction and carried on playing undisturbed with her prey. Scared to death, the mouse ran into the kitchen and disappeared under the fridge.

Sissi tried everything to get the mouse back in her claws. What was there to do? I had no other choice but to wait for my parents. After one hour I heard the car, rushed to meet them and told them everything.

My father dismantled the fridge and immediately scurried the mouse away from under it. He grabbed a shovel, my mother a broom, and I a flyswatter flap and so the mouse went through the entire apartment. Even Sissi returned to her chase. But the mouse was smarter than us and got away through the porch door back to freedom.

The problem solved

Once, there were two children. They had a cat. One day, the children wanted to go to the playground and play with the cat. They had to go through an intersection on their way to the playground. This was very dangerous because a cat can get scared at the sound of a car. Therefore, the children took a bag and put the cat in it. This is how the children were able to go with the cat to the playground.
