Kangaroo Crush

Part of
The Crush Series

This book belongs to:

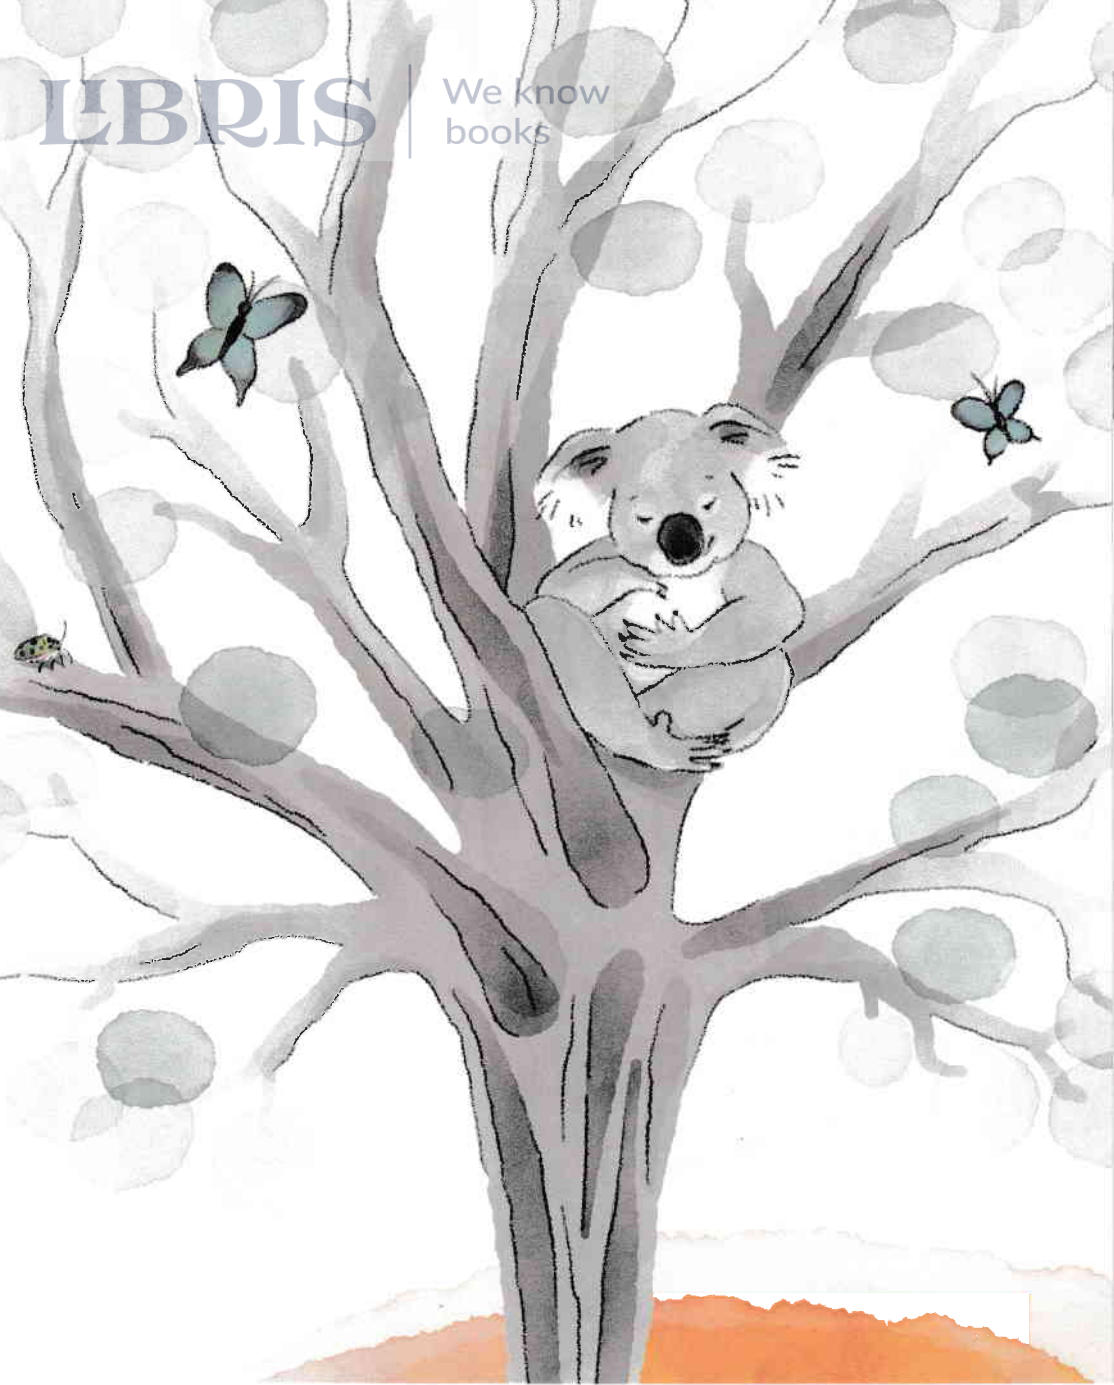

All koalas are very relaxed,
they only sleep and eat.
The leaves of a eucalyptus tree
are their favourite treat.

A koala woke from his midday snooze,
he yawned and scratched his nose.
He rubbed his tummy and thought of food,
or maybe another doze.

He yawned and stretched his long strong arms,
and watched the world go by.
He saw a bug crawl along his branch,
under the deep blue sky.

The bug was munching the branch of the tree,
having a wonderful time.

Eating the leaves and chewing the bark,
while singing all of the time.

The sun was shining and the air was hot,
he smiled as he munched away.

This is the life, he thought to himself,
as he passed the time of day.
