

LIBRIS

We know
books

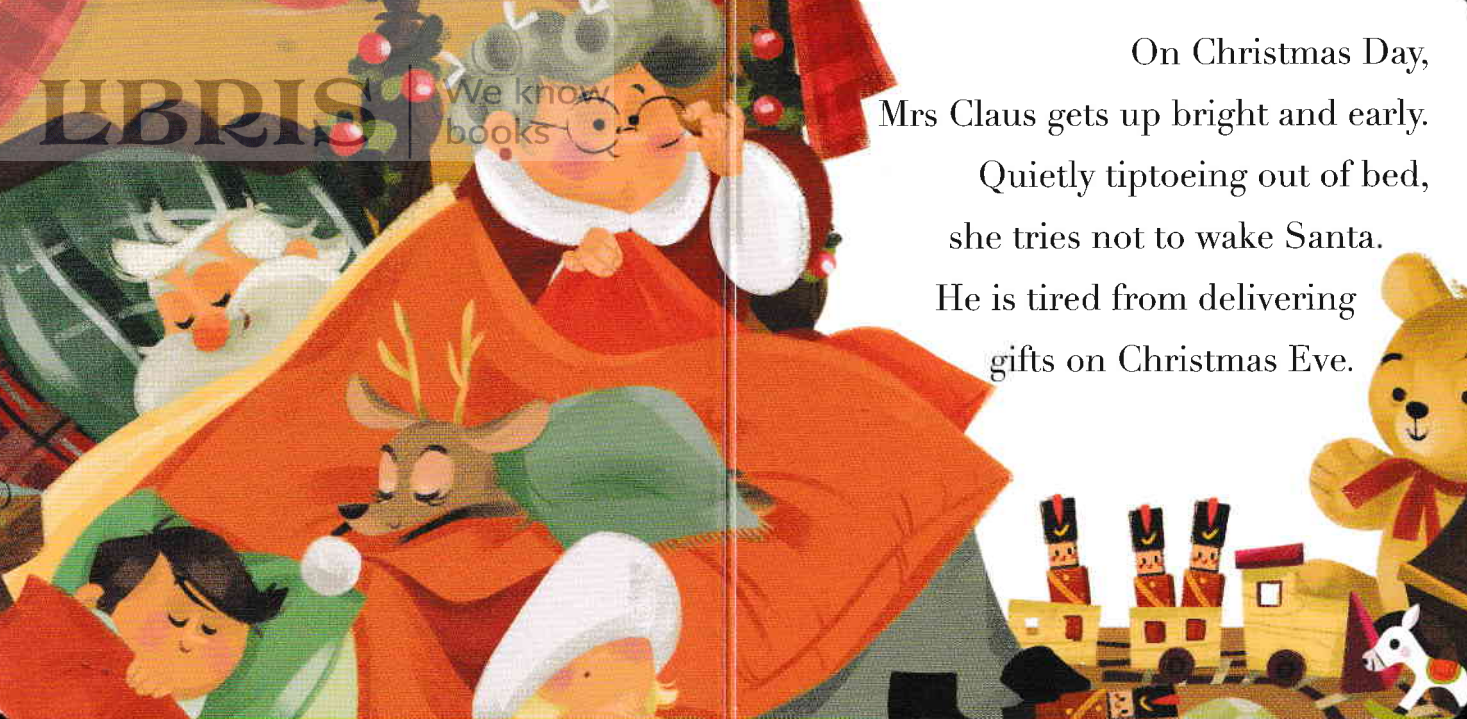

‘Where is Rita the reindeer?’

Santa asks. ‘She knows we have to pack the sleigh today.’

‘She ran by not too long ago,’

Mrs Claus says, ‘carrying Christmas lights.’

A colorful illustration of Mrs. Claus, an elderly woman with grey hair, glasses, and a red dress with a white collar, sitting up in bed. She is looking towards the right. In the foreground, a young boy with dark hair is sleeping in a green blanket, and a young girl with blonde hair is sleeping in a white blanket. A reindeer is also sleeping in the bed. The background shows a Christmas tree and a window with a view of a snowy landscape. The text 'LBRIS' is written in large, stylized letters on the left side of the illustration.

LBRIS

We know
books

On Christmas Day,
Mrs Claus gets up bright and early.
Quietly tiptoeing out of bed,
she tries not to wake Santa.
He is tired from delivering gifts on Christmas Eve.

