The Last Robot on Earth

A little robot called WALL-E moved through the mountains of trash on planet Earth.

The people escaped a long time ago when Earth became too dirty and dangerous. They all went to live on a big space station and left behind a lot of robots to clean the planet. Now, WALL-E was the only robot on Earth.

Soon, WALL-E arrived at his home—an old truck. Whoosh! He heard the sound of a storm and he closed the door quickly.

WALL-E's home had pretty lights and shelves full of interesting things. He took out some things which he found in the trash that day. He put them carefully on the shelves. Then he watched his favorite movie. A man and a woman danced and held hands in the movie. WALL-E loved it and he watched it again and again.

He wanted to hold hands and dance like the people in the movie. But more than anything, he wanted a friend.

The next day, WALL-E went out to work. Every day, he put trash into his chest and squashed it to make neat cubes.

He often found interesting things in the trash. This time he found a big, red fire extinguisher. Whoosh! The fire extinguisher was fun!

Then he saw an old fridge ... Behind the door he found something small and green. He really liked the green thing. He put it carefully into an old boot.

Just then, WALL-E saw a strange red light at his feet. The light raced away and he ran after it. Then he saw a lot more red lights ...

Suddenly, there was a loud noise above him and WALL-E looked up. The lights were from a big spaceship. It nearly landed on WALL-E!

A big metal arm came out of the spaceship. The arm put something on the ground—it was white and round.
