QUENTIN BLAKE

Three Little
Monkeys
AT CHRISTMAS

ILLUSTRATED BY

EMMA CHICHESTER CLARK

HarperCollins Children's Books

Hilda Snibbs was going to stay with her Uncle Gilbert for Christmas. With her were her three little monkeys, Tim and Sam and Lulu.

“He lives in the lap of luxury,” said Hilda. “But it will be more enjoyable for him not to have to spend Christmas on his own.”

Uncle Gilbert lived in a large flat at the top of a grand building in the city.

His flat was full of amazing things.

But the most amazing thing was his prized possession, the Golden Teapot. It was solid gold and had been made in China two thousand years ago.
