

The page is divided into a grid of rectangular boxes. The top row has two boxes. The middle section has a large box on the left and a large box on the right. The bottom section has three boxes of varying widths. There are five speech bubbles: a small rectangular one in the top right; a large horizontal oval one in the middle right; a circular one with two small circles below it on the left; a cloud-shaped one in the center; and a rectangular one in the bottom middle.
