

Alice in Wonderland

There was a sunny autumn afternoon. The leaves were falling from the trees, the garden was still and quiet. Alice was sitting on a carpet, dressed in her pretty dress, with ribbons in her golden hair. She was reading a book under the big tree.

“Oh, my God! I am late, I am so late, the Queen will be so upset!”

A rabbit passed in a hurry by Alice and disappeared beyond a bush.

Alice was so curious, she crawled into the bush and found a tunnel.

She entered the tunnel curious to find out more about a rabbit who talks and has a pocket watch!
